The score follows:

Richmond.

They may lose some games this season, and doubtless will, but Pitcher Garrett is going to hurl the Williamsburg club into eternal prominence, unless we miss our guess.

Taken as a whole, the Colts looked more like a ball club yesterday than they have yet. There was pep a-plenty, and they went at the usiness of playing ball like they had begun to realize that it was the way they were earning a living. Manager Hyan caught the first part of the game, with Mike Loan belping out at the finish. Nothing of the speciacular happened. It was one of those kind of games where youth and inexperience buckled before the attack of veterans. The score follows:

Tickets for the match are on sale to-day at the Academy of Music, and never in the history of the wrestling game in Richmond has interest been so intense. Jimmy Collins, who wrestled Turner on one or two occasions, is here training Burns, and reports that his charge is in the pink of condition now. For once, at least, Turner realizes that he is going against a man who will give him a real battle, Burns is so sure of victory that he will go on the mat to win or lose all. MADISON WINS FIRST GAME

The Madison baseball team won its first championship game from Randolph School yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's field by the large score of 13 to 3. The features of the game were the pitching of Elmer Lyda, for Madison, who allowed only two hits and caused seventeen to strike out, and the heavy hitting of Coyner Hughes. The prospects at Madison are unusually bright this year, and Coach Tompkins is having a hard time selecting a team from the thirty or more applicants out for the team.
